Goals

LISPI is a crash course in:

- Relevant science policy issues
- Mechanics of policy making
  - How is federal science policy crafted?
  - How is it implemented?
  - How can you be effective?
- Opportunities to participate in policy-making process.

Nb: Federal funds cannot be used to lobby at the federal, state, or local levels. LISPI is funded by federal funds. Any “advocacy” you see at LISPI is purely for purposes of illustration.

Difference between “education” and “lobbying”?

Who Else Talks to DC?

- Individuals
- Professional societies
  - NAE, ACM, IEEE, ....
- Business (including “Higher Education”)
- Consortia (“lobbyists”)
Why Get Involved?

- Altruism
  - "Ask not what your country can do for you - ask what you can do for your country"

- Obligation
  - In US, higher-ed is a public trust.

- Pragmatism
  - Change the environment so you can better do “your thing” (e.g., research, teaching, ...).
Ways to Connect

● Advise Research Funding Agencies
  – Influence direction (e.g. new initiatives)
  – Influence operation

● Advise Other Federal Agencies
  – Influence what/how they operate through:
    ▪ Federal Advisory Cmte Act (=FACA) advisory committees
    ▪ National Research Council (=NRC) boards and studies

● Advise Congress
  – Advice on legislation
Being Effective in DC

A rather different culture and tactics from a university setting...

- Don’t seek to get credit. (You probably won’t.)
- Compromise is typically how you win.
  - Understand what others are seeking and why.
- Organizations / Individuals optimize for:
  - More budget (“Follow the money.”)
  - More power (or less accountability / co-dependence)
  - More access
- Re-election requires votes.
  - “All politics are local.”
Being Effective in DC

- Show up (and be willing to do so whenever)
- Listen. Be prepared to summarize your opponents view as well as your opponent.
- Be succinct. Figure out the “end”. Give the “ask”. Then give a rationale that will compel this listener.
- Make it easy to give you help.
- Identify allies and recruit them.

A Cynic’s view of DC Strategy

Winning characteristics for initiatives:

– Different trumps more
– New trumps improved
– Reactive trumps proactive
– Inclusive trumps exclusive
  - 50 states, a budget crisis (=competing interests), ...
