Mentoring 101
Finding and Becoming a Mentor

Nancy M. Amato
Professor & Head, University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign
CRA Board Chair

Credits: Jodi Tims
What is a Mentor?

An experienced and trusted person who gives another person advice and help, especially related to work or school, over a period of time.

Cambridge Online Dictionary

A mentor is someone who allows you to see the hope inside yourself. A mentor is someone who allows you to know that no matter how dark the night, in the morning joy will come. A mentor is someone who allows you to see the higher part of yourself when sometimes it becomes hidden to your own view.

Oprah Winfrey
Fact: Mentoring Matters!

Benefits of Being Mentored
- Understand the culture & expectations of your institution and discipline
- Learn to accept feedback & get guidance on how to build on your strengths and overcome weaknesses
- Build self-confidence – fight imposter syndrome
- Gain access to a professional network

Benefits of Mentoring Others
- Giving back to the organization, the discipline and the mentee
- It's very satisfying - increasing your sense of self-worth and can really energize your career
- Done well, improves your listening skills Quiz: Who Mentors Whom?

- Senior colleagues mentor junior colleagues in their institution?
- Senior colleagues mentor junior colleagues in their discipline?
- Faculty mentor students?
- Senior students mentor more junior students?
- Peers mentor each other?
How to Find a Mentor

- Sometimes mentors are formally assigned
- Sometimes mentoring relationships develop “organically”
- Formal mentoring programs
- Ask a respected contact if they will be a mentor
- Stay on the lookout & stay in touch!
Mentoring Tips

• Make time for the mentee according to their need
  ▪ weekly for grad students, regular lunches/coffees with junior colleagues

• Give relevant advice
  ▪ Students – career options, skill building, time management
  ▪ Junior colleagues – professional development, work-life balance

• Provide encouragement
  ▪ Empathize with setbacks, strategize, & praise success

• Increase opportunities when possible
  ▪ Increase mentee’s network, recommend opportunities
Avoid Mentoring Pitfalls

• Don’t dictate - instead of listening & encouraging
• Don’t try to make your mentee just like yourself
• Don’t “over mentor” - professional mentor/mentee relationships are not friendships in spite of being trusting and close relationships
• Don’t allow the mentee to take advantage of you – e.g., demanding too much time or support beyond mentoring
• Don’t take advantage of mentees – e.g., don’t let them do favors or work for you
Some Final Mentoring Advice

• Have multiple mentors – formal & informal
• Don’t be afraid to ask someone to be a mentor, but understand if they decline
• Don’t expect your mentor to solve your problems
• Don’t betray a mentee’s trust
• Don’t overcommit to too many mentees
• Don’t believe that you’ve outgrown the need for a mentor
• Thank your mentors and let them know how valuable they have been to you
Mentoring Resources

• National Academy of Sciences resources

  • https://www.nap.edu/read/5789/chapter/1

  • http://sites.nationalacademies.org/PGA/FordFellowships/PGA_049594

• National Center for Women & Information Technology Resources

  • https://www.ncwit.org/resources/mentoring-box-technical-women-work

  • https://www.ncwit.org/resources/mentoring-box-women-faculty-computing

  • https://www.ncwit.org/newsletters/mentoring-take-your-influence-next-level
Let’s Hear Your Mentoring Questions & Advice!