Located in Midtown Detroit, the Wayne State University (WSU) College of Engineering anticipates hiring a tenure-track or tenured faculty starting from Fall 2023. Wayne State University is pursuing a bold initiative to hire 40 diverse candidates across the university to create a strong interdisciplinary group to profoundly impact the African American community through research, teaching and engagement. As a part of this broader initiative, the College of Engineering will be hiring five faculty through a multi-year college-wide cluster hire. Outstanding candidates in any engineering/computer science related field who could complement and enhance current departmental strengths will be considered. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Engineering, Computer Science, or a closely related field, by Fall 2023 and the potential for excellence in teaching and research.

Applications must be submitted at https://jobs.wayne.edu/ and must include a curriculum vitae, teaching, research, and diversity statements, and names and addresses of at least three references. Links to a professional website such as Google Scholar is recommended.

For guarantee full consideration, applications must be submitted by March 1, 2023. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the positions are filled.

The College of Engineering at Wayne State has 121 tenured/tenure-track faculty, and 13 teaching faculty. The college is committed to building a diverse faculty preeminent in its missions of research, teaching, and service to the community. Candidates who have experience engaging with a diverse range of faculty, staff, and students, and contributing to a climate of inclusivity are encouraged to discuss their perspectives on these subjects in their application materials.
