Faculty hired in these positions will be members of the Department of Computer Science, which spans the Ithaca and New York City campuses, but their teaching and research will be based in Ithaca. A separate application is needed to be considered for a Computer Science position at the New York City campus; please visit the website <https://www.cs.cornell.edu/information/jobpostings/facultypositionsnyctech> for further information about the New York City application process.

Tenured and tenure-track faculty must hold the equivalent of a Ph.D. Applicants must have demonstrated an ability to conduct outstanding research. Fostering an inclusive environment is a core value of the Computer Science Department and Cornell as a whole. In line with Cornell's historical commitment to educating "... any person ... in any study...", we seek candidates who will create a climate that helps attract and is inclusive of all students, including students from historically underrepresented groups and students who have overcome personal challenges.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae and brief statements of research and teaching interests, identify one or two top publications to which they have made significant contributions, and arrange to have at least three reference letters submitted at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/25537>. We ask applicants for all faculty positions to share their experiences and/or approaches (past, current, or future) to fostering learning, research service, and/or outreach in a diverse community. Applicants may choose to submit a stand-alone statement or embed the information in other parts of their application materials.
