

Assistant Professor of Computer Science
Position Number: 999406
Fall 2024 Search

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG) seeks applications for one tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Computer Science starting August 1, 2024. We seek candidates with exceptional potential on research and teaching. Applicants with research focus on Human-Computer Interaction and Virtual Reality are preferred, but those whose research can build upon the department's current research strengths, including algorithms, artificial intelligence, machine learning, data analytics, databases, data mining, foundations of computer science, image processing, networking, and security are also encouraged to apply. We will also consider applications from excellent candidates in other areas of computer science.

The Department of Computer Science at UNCG is a thriving department with an established, ABET- accredited B.S. degree program, an active M.S. degree program and a new Ph.D. program established in Fall 2022. The department is experiencing rapid enrollment growth in recent years, currently has 9 research-active tenured and tenure-track faculty members, as well as lecturers and part-time faculty.
