Assistant Teaching Professor of Computer Science

The Department of Computer Science at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a two-year, non-tenure-track instructional position that will begin August 10, 2024. This appointment has a service component commensurate with rank. This appointment may be renewable contingent upon department/program needs, availability of funds, and performance review.

We seek an individual with expertise in computer science. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load.

Located in the center of historic Williamsburg and known as a public Ivy, William & Mary is consistently ranked in the elite group for best undergraduate teaching by U.S. News and World Report and is committed to a multi-year effort to strengthen and expand its computer science program. More information about the department can be found at https://www.cs.wm.edu.

A Master's degree is required.

A Ph.D. or ABD in Computer Science or a related field at the time the appointment begins or professional experience in computing is preferred. Previous teaching experience is also preferred.

William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The university is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. William & Mary conducts background checks on applicants being considered for employment.

Applicants must apply online at https://jobs.wm.edu. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of teaching interests, and a statement of research interests. A diversity statement is not required. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in computing in any of the aforementioned required documents. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, November 1, 2023. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.
